

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
5/27/2020

CONTACT: Jennifer Tobey (574)238-0144, jtobey@elkhartcounty.com
Melanie Sizemore (574) 276-1197, msizemore@elkhartcounty.com

OPENING THE ECONOMY HAS RISKS

Many of you may have seen the article in the New York Times, Elkhart County is 10th in the nation for being the next possible COVID-19 outbreak area. This may be alarming to many of you and not so much for others. The issue we are seeing is that as businesses open up and people are out and about, we see an increase in positive cases. This could make us one of the next outbreak locations. To combat this, we need to continue to remind you and others that you need to wash your hands often, avoid close contact, cover your mouth and nose with a face cover when around others, cover your coughs and sneezes, clean and disinfect frequently touched surfaces, and monitor your symptoms.

Nothing Beats 6 Feet – Social Distancing

Your actions do affect others, especially those that are 65 and older. Please take precautions for yourself and others. Your community thanks you!

As we have said many times and will continue to say, the best way to protect yourself from any respiratory illness, including COVID-19 is to:

- Wash your hands often with soap and water for at least 20 seconds. If soap and water are not available, use an alcohol-based hand sanitizer with 60% or higher alcohol.
- Avoid touching your eyes, nose, and mouth with unwashed hands.
- Practice social distancing (no group functions such as book clubs, meetings, and or congregations of 10 or more)
- Stay home where possible.
- Cover your cough or sneeze with a tissue, then throw the tissue in the trash.
- Clean and disinfect frequently touched objects and surfaces.

For information and data, go to www.coronavirus.in.gov or go to the CDC at www.cdc.gov for more information regarding the coronavirus.

###